

Raccoon River Watershed Association Membership Form

The RRWA is an all-volunteer, non-profit with very little overhead. While many other organizations struggle to pay staff, office space, printing, etc. the RRWA puts most of its resources into networking, education and research.

The RRWA is a 501c4 and therefore membership fees are not tax deductible, however, through our partnership with the Iowa Natural Heritage Foundation all contributions to the Research and Education Fund are tax deductible. All proceeds in this fund go towards grants for research conducted in the watershed by college students and staff. We have given out nearly $30,00 in grants since 2010.

We provide a newsletter, special updated and out Annual "Life in the Raccoon" event.

Choose the membership that best fits you and /or make a special tax deductible donation to our Research and Education Fund.
